UNIVERSITY OF LJUBLJANA
School of Economics and Business

Veronika Avbar

Year of birth: 2002

Undergraduate degree: University of Ljubljana,
School of Economics and Business

Specialization: Banking and Finance Management

What is your proudest achievement?

I started with my first company when I was 14 years old. I am also proud of being a president of Association of female students of business studies.

Which words describe you best?

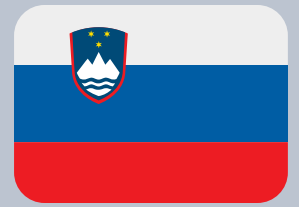

Open-minded, ambitious, eager-to-learn, creative and reliable

What is your life motto?

My favourite motto that I tell people, especially pupils and students when I give lectures, and the one that I strongly live by is »The time will pass anyways. Might as well make the most out of it! « I am not even sure if I heard it somewhere or I just made it up in my head but this motto always motivates me to do the most and to do my best.

What are your hobbies and interests?

My extracurricular activities are mostly connected to volunteering and student associations that I am a part of. I also like arts and sports.

Mihael Maj Batagelj

Year of birth: 2002

Master's thesis in progress about psychological factors of exceptional success within Slovenian business and political landscape with in-depth interviews with Slovenian leading business and political figures (Zoran Jankovič, Milan Kučan, Saša Arsenovič, Tibor Šimonka, Aleksander Mervar, Blaž Brodnjak, Jože Mermal, Janez Škrabec, Marko Lukič, etc). As well as 10 years of advanced courses of self-inquiry meditation practice.

Which words describe you best?

Passionate, driven, ambitious, stubborn, peristant.

What is your life motto?

Watching The Tudors I thought it would be 'The most happy', but I saw my heroine Anne Boleyn meeting her tragic end and decided one should never compromise his/her value to reach the goal, however attractive the goal seems. I came to a conclusion that if I would get to chose, I would like my imaginery company to have the motto "seeking the Sun" as a part of its mission to help leaders be the best and reach what they once thought impossible through developing very clear focus and uncompromisable set of personal values.

What are your hobbies and interests?

Writing reflexions on psychology and philosphy of power for my personal website Psychology of winners, pilates, interior design, philosophy, ruined castles, studying powerful families like Yusupovs, Romanovs, Borgias, etc, skiing, hedonism, reading Russian classics and stoics, practicing mindfulness, matcha drinking

Petrisa Čanji Vouri

Year of birth: 1999

Undergraduate degree: University of Ljubljana,
School of Economics and Business

Specialization: International Economics

What is your proudest achievement?

I am most proud of the company I helped build: e-Matura and my society, the Association for Sustainable Knowledge and Networking and what we managed to achieve in a good year.

Which words describe you best?

Communicative, resourceful, creative, confident, and persistent.

What is your life motto?

I live by principles and not mottos. I try to do everything with excellence, enjoy every moment and not lose myself in the process.

What are your hobbies and interests?

I have always loved music and reading. I play the piano, percussion instruments and bass guitar and studied opera for seven years.

Marek Čech

Year of birth: 2001

Undergraduate degree: University of Ljubljana,
School of Economics and Business

Winning in Business Hive competition and being invited to present my group project in the company's facilities was a fascinating experience.

Which words describe you best?

Creative, reliable, perfectionist, rational, dedicated.

What is your life motto?

There is an old Russian proverb: "Live forever, learn forever". But not many know the full version of this phrase, which is: "Live forever, learn forever - and you will die a fool". This saying implies that, while realising that one can never know everything, there is always a room for new knowledge, and a person should strive to constantly learn.

What are your hobbies and interests?

I enjoy reading, writing poetry, visiting beautiful sights around the world, and trying various sports: tennis, horse riding, diving, and sailing.
